

Hopkinsville Centurion.

VOL. XVII.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1895.

NO. 46.

Prices Cut In Two

Look pretty even on paper, but Oh! how much more so when you see them in reality - - -

OUR HALF PRICE SALE

is Booming.
COMING IN TO IT?

J. H. ANDERSON & CO.

A BIRD . . .

In Hand is Worth Two in the Bush.

Money Saved is Money Made.

You can save money by buying your Dry Goods, Carpets and Millinery of us. We have the most elegant line of silks, dress goods, trimmings, silk waists, millinery, carpets, ever placed on exhibition in this city. Come and see them.

RICHARDS & CO.

AS CHEP AS

Well, just come and see how cheap they are
HARNESS, SADDLES,
BRIDLES just to suit you.

An elegant line of Summer Lap-Robes opened now.
Every thing you can need we have.

F. A. Yost & Co.

No Old Shop-worn Goods

To Offer,

But we cut first to the red, new goods.

As advertised, of all our

Straw Hats,

Your choice for 50c.

New Styles
Stiff Hats

go at $1.00. No wholesale house in the country sells this hat at less than $19.50 per dozen. All hats on sale at like cut prices. We deal direct with factory, and will save you money and give you fresh, nobby new goods.

Summer Underwear

goes at actual cost. This means a good shirt at 15c and on up the line. We will give you the best of Garmer's Percals and Laundered Shirts, 4 collars 2 pairs cuffs to match, 75c.

Boys Clothing.

We will in addition to our discount, give you a red line cut.

In Shoes

the same immense cuts pertain. We are in these lines and make you big bargains.

COME TO SEE US

Petree & Co.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Minor Killed—Fatal Shooting in Trigg—To-day Booming—Bragman Injured—Killing in Caldwell—Highwayman Captured—Police News—Base Ball, etc.

A Rare Aggregation.

The Clarksville—St. Louis—Louisville—Evansville base ball aggregation is here and the first of a series of games was played yesterday with our home nine. A detachment of the Tennesseans arrived Wednesday night, presumably to "shape" our boys for yesterday's contest, but the plan wouldn't work well. The 4:30 p. m. train yesterday brought in the western wing and at 9:52 a. m. the rear guard from Clarksville landed lightly. Clarksville is not playing her regular team, but has made a call from several other states and is confident that she can have us "rushed from the earth," but the Locals also have an opinion and are confident that they can win both games. The teams will play in the village on the Cumberland next Thursday and Friday, and a large crowd from the city will go over from the city and see the work well done. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game yesterday, and to-day a much larger one is expected. Our boys are in fine condition and expect to win every game from the "Great Southern Combination." When the games come off at Clarksville arrangements will be made to get the score by innings in this city by telephone.

Minor Crushed to Death.

Harry Cornice, a coal miner at work in the Empire mines, was instantly killed while at his work Tuesday morning. At the time of the accident Cornice was engaged in setting props in the mine, when a large piece of slate fell from the roof and struck him on the head knocking him down. In falling his jaw struck the track railing and was badly crushed. Physicians were summoned from Crofton, but Cornice died before they arrived. It was the opinion of the physicians that death was caused from the fall as the blow on the head was hardly sufficient to have produced such a result. Cornice was about 60 years old and had been engaged in mining coal for 40 years. He leaves a family.

Landed Them in Jail.

Sometime in last month it will be remembered that Essex Gupton, a colored boy of the Oak Grove neighborhood, was held up by highwaymen and relieved of his cash, about $7 in silver. Warrants were sworn out and placed in the hands of an officer at once, but nothing further could be heard from the suspected parties. Constable W. T. Brame, of Lafayette, was given a description of two of the negroes and on Tuesday he arrested Dave Crawford and Chas. Griffey and delivered them up to the jailer of the county. The two will have an examining trial before Judge Breathitt tomorrow. They answer to the description of the robbers and the chances are they will have trouble in clearing themselves of the serious charge.

Tobacco Sales Still Booming.

The sales of the weed on this market continue very heavy and again this week the "thousand hoghead" note was reached. The offerings consisted of every grade of tobacco and the demand was good for all the kinds in salable order. Good leaf ranged in the "teens." Common leaf ranged as high as $6 and lugs brought most satisfactory figures. The rejections amounted to but few hogheads. The market is very active on all grades and every variety goes with a rush. Reports from every section agree that the growing crop is far advanced for the season and bids fair to make a good one.

Another Shooting in Trigg.

CAME, July 11.—At a barbecue last Saturday at the Peyton Thomas place, on Donaldson creek, a row occurred between Eugene Moore and Sam Young, resulting in the shooting of the latter. The ball struck Young in the left side and is considered a fatal wound. At last accounts he was still alive, but was thought to be rapidly sinking. Moore has not been arrested. The parties are well known Trigg county farmers.

Kicked by a Horse.

Last Tuesday afternoon H. M. Dalton was kicked by a horse and it was at first thought that his injuries would prove fatal, but he rallied and by Wednesday was able to be up. One of the animal's feet struck an arm and the other landed just over the right lung, but neither kick carried full force, or Mr. Dalton would have been instantly killed.

Ex-Governor Stevenson, of Idaho, committed suicide at Paradise Springs, Cal., Monday.

CRIME IN CALDWELL.

A Horrible Tragedy that Occurred Near Princeton.

PRINCETON, Ky., July 9.—One of the most awful tragedies that has occurred in the annals of Caldwell county took place near here last night which resulted in the death of one man and the probably fatal injury of another. About midnight last night a crowd of eight men went to the house of Joseph Howerton, who lives seven miles north of here, and demanded admittance. The old man refused to grant their request until they made known their mission. He was talking with them through an open window and when he declined to comply with their request the crowd immediately opened fire upon him probably inflicting fatal wounds. They then proceeded to batter down the door of the house.

Hewitt Howerton, a son, made a desperate resistance, but was overpowered by numbers and taken a short distance from the house, where he was then most brutally murdered. The crowd then went back to the house and took Berry, a younger son, and after fearfully abusing him they threatened to kill him should he ever divulge the names of the parties, whom it is supposed Berry recognized.

The cause of the brutal outrage is not known, but it is asserted that the mob was composed of citizens of Hopkins county. The affair has created great indignation.

To Answer a Charge of Robbery.

Federal officers left for Louisville Tuesday with Jao. A. Coleman, who was arrested in this city last week on a warrant charging him with having robbed the postoffice at Jenny Lind, Ark., June 26 last, of a considerable sum of money and valuable mail matter. Coleman was taken before Judge Barr for identification, but the trial will take place at Fort Smith, Ark. The indictment contains several counts.

Oh! Pshaw, Another Girl!

BEZARD'S BAY, July 8.—At Gray Gables, the quiet and picturesque summer home of President Cleveland at 4:30 yesterday afternoon a little girl was born unto Mrs. Cleveland. Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the attending physician, to-night informed a reporter for the United States Press that both mother and child were doing well. This makes three girls in the President's family. Ruth is 4 and Esther 2 years old.

Three Libel Suits.

There are three libel suits set for the present term of the Todd county circuit court. Two of them are brought by Geo. T. Sadler, ex-cashier of the People's Bank of Guthrie, against the American Surety, of New York, and Bradberry Williams, their agent. Mr. Sadler asks for $2,000 in each case. The other is S. H. Sullivan against the Louisville Commercial. Mr. Sullivan asks for $50,000 damages.

Upset the Buggy.

The buggy in which Miss Beulah Edwards, daughter of Mr. E. W. C. Edwards, was driving, was struck by another vehicle and upset in the street just in front of the Kentucky office yesterday morning. Miss Edwards was caught under the top, but escaped injury. The buggy was only slightly damaged. The young lady had a very narrow escape.

Police Court Proceedings.

The following business was disposed of in the Police court Tuesday: Walker Mason, mule stealing, dismissed; John Nourse, col., breach of peace, fined $8; Aaron Rice, col., suspect, discharged; Sam Metlock, col., breach of peace, dismissed; Maggie Croney, col., street walking, 11 days in the work house.

Verdict for Miss Tate.

MORGANFIELD, July 10.—The jury in the case of Miss Addie Tate vs. the Messenger company, of Owensboro, returned a verdict just before noon awarding $600 damages to the plaintiff. Under the instructions the jury could only adjudge actual damages unless malice was shown. She sued for $5,000. The case will be appealed by the defendant.

Delaney Case Continued.

Monday was the day set for the trial of George Delaney at Morganfield, but the case was continued until the seventh day of the November term of court, on account of the absence of George Henry, a very important witness.

His Injuries Fatal.

Mr. Lewis Potter, of Bowling Green, who broke his thigh in an accident last week, died Monday from his injuries. He was 85 years old and very wealthy.

Miss Vida Warner, of Glasgow, and Miss Mary Garrett, of Pembroke, are visiting Miss Katie Graham, at Oaky.

NOT YET NAMED.

THE EDDYVILLE CONVENTION DOWN TO HARD WORK.

One Hundred and Fifty Ballots Taken on Wednesday, But no Candidate Gets the Number Necessary to Nominate. The Matter Likely Settled Last Night.

EDDYVILLE, July 10.—The convention was organized at 1 p. m. to-day by the election of Chas. H. Bush, of Christian, as temporary chairman, elected without opposition.

On motion committees on organization, resolutions and credentials were appointed, consisting of five members each, one from each county and the fifth named by the chair.

These committees reported in about thirty minutes, the interval being filled in with speeches by Charles Wheeler, Ollie James, Bill Reed and other visiting politicians.

The credentials committee reported 80 delegates from Calloway, 15 from Christian, 18 from Trigg and 82 from Lyon. There were no irregularities and the report was promptly adopted.

The committee on organization reported Judge Robt. Crenshaw, of Trigg, for permanent chairman, and W. W. Martin, of Lyon, for secretary, with the Democratic members of the district press, present as delegates, as assistants. This report was also adopted in short order, without objection.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

We, the Democracy of the third judicial district of Kentucky in convention assembled, endorse the action of the district committee in calling this convention and accept the basis of representation as fixed by the district committee.

RESOLVED, That we reaffirm our allegiance to the Democratic party and accept and endorse the principles enunciated by the recent state convention at Louisville June 25, '95. RESOLVED, That we heartily commend the ticket nominated by said convention to the Democracy of this district and its delegates to the Democrats to give it their earnest and loyal support.

RESOLVED, That we endorse the able and patriotic administration of our present state officials and express our full confidence in the purpose of the Democratic party to continue an honest and economical administration of state affairs.

This report was unanimously submitted and adopted without discussion.

The nomination of candidates was begun at 2 p. m. J. C. Linn was named by T. A. Miller and seconded by Rev. Hoover.

Judge T. J. Morrow was presented by C. H. Bush and R. Howell in the best manner of the day. After the 15th ballot Trigg moved to adjourn and Lyon and Christian voted for the motion, the convention adjourning until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

The convention is at this writing apparently deadlocked, with no end in sight. Christian, Lyon and Calloway have the unit rule and Trigg alone has an odd delegate.

The delegates are all well cared for and are having a good time. Every body keeps in a good humor and there has been no bad feeling engendered so far. Christian is represented by the following delegation:

Delegates, C. H. Bush, W. R. Howell, W. T. Cooper, Jno G. Childress, Barker Lewis, R. T. Petree, Frank Rives, W. A. Wilgus, C. C. Graves, Chas. M. Meacham, T. M. Barker and W. P. Winfree. Alternates present, L. L. Nichols, M. S. Major and J. T. Harnery. J. B. Allenworth and M. L. Elb are also on hand.

Frost and Snow in July.

Ice formed on water in tubs in the region around Stuart City, Iowa, Tuesday morning and there was light frost in low places in South Dakota.

There was also some snow in Wisconsin, but it remained on the ground only a short while. No damage to crops has been reported. The temperature fell 45 deg. res. in two hours time.

Three hundred employees of the Pullman shops at Ludlow, Ky., have received an increase of 10 per cent, in wages.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Meetings of Old Soldiers Who Thought Each Dead.

How Col. Mussey Found a Long-Lost Brother—The Singular and Fathetic Story of Hugh Thompson, the Nameless Soldier.

(Special Washington Letter.)

"Hello, Jack Adams! How you dead on the field thirty years ago! Are you really alive, or are you a materialized spirit? Let me pinch you and hug you."

It was really Corporal Adams, very well and very much alive. Col. Fred D. Mussey, the veteran Washington correspondent of the Washington Commercial-Gazette, was sitting in his office on Newspaper row. Thousands of old soldiers were here attending the national encampment of the Grand

IN FRONT OF BATON ROUGE.

Army of the Republic. Col. Mussey had met many old friends whom he had not seen for a quarter of a century. But when Jack Adams came into the office the scene was dramatic beyond description. Col. Mussey acted like a man whose dearest brother had come back from the grave. He said:

"Why, my dear boy, I saw you killed. I saw a sick-punch cannon ball cut you in two in front of Baton Rouge. You were in a charge, and I pressed on with the regiment. Other fellows were falling all around us, some of them killed, but hardly all of them wounded. You accounted for all of them, buried the dead and sent the others to hospitals. I supposed that fragments of your body were buried, for I never saw you after that cannon ball struck you."

"Yes, Fred, you are right about that cannon ball hitting me," said Adams, with a smile. "But it didn't kill me. As a matter of fact, it was a spent ball, and only grazed my right hip. I suppose it appeared to go clear through me. But you know, Fred, that there was some little excitement just then, and maybe you got rattled. There was enough fighting and enough danger to rattle the bravest of us that day. Well, the spent ball paralyzed me, and bruised me, and nearly killed me. But I was breathing, although unconscious, so they put me up, put me in an ambulance and sent me to a field hospital. Then I was carried on to a hospital steamer, taken to a general hospital at New Orleans, and finally recovered. It was a long time before I was sound and well again, and it was many a day and many a month before I was sound and well again. But here I am again, in the body, and might as well say my old friend and comrade again."

Col. Mussey had a similar singular experience about the same time. One evening he came over to see me, and said, with considerable excitement: "I have discovered my brother, Al. Mussey, after nearly thirty years of silence on his part. He left our Vermont home after the war, saying he would never come back until his fortune was made. We have never heard of him since, and now I have discovered him."

"Where is he, and how did you find him?" I inquired.

"It is providential," said Col. Mussey. "The pension office sends a typewritten slip every day giving the names of Ohio and Indiana soldiers to whom pensions have been issued. I have been looking at California soldiers, because my paper does not circulate in California. And to-night in my envelope, by an error of some clerk, I had received a California pension slip. I was about to throw it in the waste basket when I saw the name of Albert W. Mussey. That must be my brother. He has been in California. He has applied for a pension. It has been issued, and this slip bearing his name, the only California slip I have ever seen, has been wafted into my office. I will write to him."

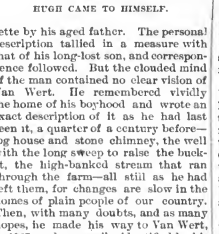

The result of this peculiar incident was that Col. Mussey wrote to the pensioner, received a reply and then sent word to his venerable mother in Vermont that her eldest boy was still alive. Al Mussey had become a prosperous merchant. He had been with his mother and was devoted to his home, and had just news of the deaths of his kindred might come to him. But, after all, the family was reunited, and Al looked upon that stray California pension slip as a providential occurrence.

More remarkable than the story of Jack Adams is a thrilling romance in which the records of the pension office disclose concerning Hugh Thompson, of Van Wert, O., a farmer lad who had enlisted in the Fifteenth Ohio Infantry, September 1, 1862, and marched away to the front with the tens of thousands of other farmer laddies who comprised the bone and sinew of the rank and file of the armies of the Union. At the battle of Chickamauga, as a comrade relates, while they were lying on the ground at the front to escape the tempest of balls that swept the low woods where his regiment was engaged, a case shot, probably deflected from a tree, struck him in the head, and his face was instantly covered with blood. His comrade spoke to him, but he did not answer. Just then the order to fall back was given. He was assisted to his feet, staggered a few feet, and dashed kind of a way, and fell in a heap as a Confederate brigade swarmed into the woods, and his comrades were forced to leave him, evidently dying from a mortal wound. He never rejoined them. The regimental report of the adjutant for September, 1863, bears the note upon his name: "Wounded and missing in the battle of Chickamauga, September 19, 1863." And he disappeared from comrades and friends and home, one of the unknown dead, remembered only as an integer component of the myriads of soldier boys who gave their young lives for their country. His father years after died of a stroke for a pension on account of his service, his mother having died prior to his enlistment. No doubt was raised as to his death in the army, but the claim was rejected on the legal ground that the father was not dependent upon the services of his lost son.

From September 19, 1863, the day of the battle, until some time in February, 1870, the history of Hugh Thompson is a blank. He recovered his identity but partially as he was, tramping through the snow on a country road near the village of Cleveland, Ill. He was a strong, able-bodied man, comfortably dressed in a good working suit, with a pair of new boots on his feet and a conk-cap on his head. He carried an old-fashioned oil-cloth valise, and on the lonely road, in the darkening twilight of that freezing February evening, Hugh Thompson, the wounded soldier of Chickamauga, "came to himself," as he expressed it. It was just as if at that moment he had awakened from a dreamless sleep of seven years and become conscious of existence. Who he was, or what he had done, or where he had been, he knew not. He knew that his name was Thompson, but called himself Henry instead of Hugh. What name he had formerly used he knew not. His mind was clouded, but the clouds were lifting. Old scenes came before him as dreams. He knew he had been in a battle, and was lying on the ground while bullets were whizzing but everybody told him the war had long been closed. How he came to be on that country road he never has known. It was a long jump in time from the field of Chickamauga in 1863, to the village of Cleveland in 1870.

From Illinois he went to Kansas, and sometime in 1880 or 1881, he became impressed with the belief that he had been a soldier in an Ohio regiment. He was not sure that his name was Thompson, but certain that he was an Ohio soldier boy. The newspapers of Kansas took up the matter, gave accurate descriptions of him, and the strange history of the Nameless Soldier, as he came to be known, traveled to Ohio and was read in the columns of the Van Wert Gazette.

HUGH CAME TO HIMSELF.

zette by his aged father. The personal description tallied in a measure with that of his long-lost son, and correspondence following the clouded memory of the man contained no clear vision of Van Wert. He remembered vividly the home of his boyhood and wrote an exacting letter to his father, and he had seen it, a quarter of a century before—log house and stone chimney, the well with the long sweep to raise the bucket, the high-backed steam that came through the farm—all still as he had left them, for changes are slow in the homes of plain people of our country. With many doubts, and as many hopes, he made his way to Van Wert in 1887, and was easily identified by his family and former comrades. He applied for a pension, and the certificate directing payment to him as the wounded and missing Hugh Thompson, of Chickamauga, was forwarded in due course of time. It was the story as revealed by the official records of the pension office. It is a wonderful story, and fiction plagues but by its facts.

The story of Rip Van Winkle is thrilling to an audience when the old man pulls from his leather pouch the old contract which Friedrich Van Beekman wanted him to sign, twenty years before, to an audience when the old man pulls from his leather pouch the old evidence of the identification of Hugh Thompson. From the day of his wound and loss of memory, through all his wanderings, he remained a fugitive, a man given him by a sister, with an inscription in rhyme, when he enlisted. The sister, still living, recognized it at once, and she exhibited it to him as the evidence of his identity. He had kept the Testament his sister had given him; but he had forgotten the sister. When he saw her, however, he recognized her and with a glad cry rushed to her arms, and they sobbed and cried like children. It was a reunion the like of which was never depicted upon the mimic stage.

—S. D. FAY.

The biggest haul of fish ever made at the Point Sauble grounds, near Green Bay, was taken a few days ago. The single haul of the seine brought up 8,460 pounds of fish for which the lucky fisherman received the sum of $194.17. There were 5,570 pounds of perch, 1,835 pounds of yellow perch, 680 pounds of muskellunge and 77 pounds of catfish. Although the ground at Point Sauble has been seine for over thirty years, no catch equal to this has ever been made, and the fishermen claim that it is a conclusive proof that the waters are not being depopulated of their fishy inhabitants, as is claimed by the enemies of seine fishing.

DYING AS A RECLUSE.

One of the Greatest Generals of the Civil War.

The Remarkable Career of Gen. Alfred Pleasanton, His Methods of Criticism and Unaccountable Retirement from the World.

In a dingy little room and a dingy little hotel, almost the last of the antique structures which yet linger as reminiscences of the many days of the war, almost obliterated "Rum row," one of the greatest generals of the war of the rebellion lies upon a bed which he will not leave until he has taken them to the cemetery, says a Washington correspondent.

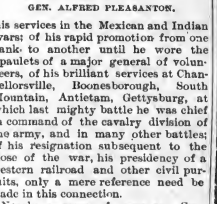

Of all the brilliant generals of the war the fewest are dead. Alfred Pleasanton is the most curious. In ability to plan and daring to execute he was equal, if not superior, to Gen. Philip Sheridan, and had Pleasanton remained in the regular army he would doubtless have passed through life equally honored and prominent, and passed away with similar honors.

As is well known, Gen. Pleasanton was a member of a distinguished family of eastern Pennsylvania. His elder brother, Gen. A. J. Pleasanton, was a brave and distinguished officer of the war, who held many high civil and military positions in Pennsylvania, and a few years ago made a great stir by his theory of the curative properties of solar rays when passed through blue glass.

A slight vein of eccentricity, a tendency toward the adoption of daring theories, a contempt for the sudden ignorance and stagnation of the masses, and a high respect for the aristocracy of self, which seemed to run through the whole family, became strongly marked in the great cavalry general when he retired from active life, and finally landed him a hypochondriac and recluse in the not over sweet oxygen of the little room in "Rum row."

From this seclusion he has not emerged for more than four years. No man has intruded in all that period, with the exception of three persons, who have handled his pay as a retired officer of the army, and those of his purchases and the payment of his bills and his legal affairs.

Of Gen. Pleasanton's career as a student at Princeton and West Point; of his services in the Mexican and Indian wars of his rapid promotion from one rank to another until he wore the epaulettes of a major general of volunteers, of his brilliant services at Chancellorsville, Boonshannon, South Mountain, Antietam, Gettysburg, at which last mighty battle he was chief in command of the cavalry division of the army, and in many other battles; of his resignation subsequent to the close of the war, his residence of years in western railroad and other civil pursuits, only a mere reference need be made in this connection.

GEN. ALFRED PLEASANTON.

Nearly a score of years ago Gen. Pleasanton adopted the life of an absolute recluse, after he devoted much time to books. He was an omnivorous reader of critical descriptions of battles and a devoted student of the career of the great Napoleon. It is probable that no man of his time had so readily at his tongue's tip every detail of every battle of Waterloo, drawn from every available source of map and volume. He never tired of discussing this one of the most important histories of the world, and from impromptu diagrams, exactly correct, as to the positions of the various armies at various moments of the battle and with perfect knowledge of the topography of the field, he would entertain his friends and point out the mistakes of Napoleon, and how by a change of tactics he might have won the fateful battle.

Gen. Pleasanton's criticisms of most of the commanding officers of the war of the rebellion were unparagoned, and more than once cropped up in magazine articles, one of the most notable of which appeared a few years ago in the Century, and which chastised Gen. Hooker severely for his conduct of the battle of Chancellorsville. Still more recently he had written an army intelligence against him, and played a conspicuous part in the opposition to his retirement by act of congress.

Previous to that time the general lived the life of a Bohemian upon exceedingly limited rations, his only income being a meager remittance at regular intervals representing his share of the proceeds from the small family estate at Philadelphia.

With plenty of money, his ample pay as a retired colonel in his pocket, and in the midst of his bohemian enjoyment, when pneumonia friends forsake him not, and when impetuous friends were greatly multiplied, Gen. Alfred Pleasanton suddenly disappeared from public view. Inquiry soon developed that he was not physically ill, but that he had discovered the cause of his self-imposed exile.

Many Miles of Children.

It is calculated that if the children under the care of the London school board were to join hands they would reach from London to Carlsbad, a distance of 360 miles.

Twenty Years Proof.

Tutt's Liver Pills keep the bowels in natural motion and cleanse the system of all impurities. An absolute cure for sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, constipation and kindred diseases.

"Can't do without them!"

R. P. Smith, Chilesburg, Va. writes I don't know how I could do without them. I have had Liver disease for over twenty years. Am now entirely cured.

Tutt's Liver Pills

In Poor Health

means so much more than you imagine—serious and fatal diseases result from trifling ailments neglected. Don't play with Nature's greatest gift—health.

Brown's Iron Bitters

If you are feeling out of sorts, weak and generally exhausted, nervous, have no appetite and can't work, begin at once taking the most reliable strengthening medicine which is known to the world. A few bottles of Brown's Iron Bitters will do it. It comes from the very first class of medicinal herbs, and it's pleasant to take.

It Cures

Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Neuralgia, Constipation, Bad Blood, Malaria, Nervous ailments.

Women's complaints.

Get only the genuine—it has crossed red lines on the wrapper. All others are substitutes. On receipt of two cc stamps you will send set of Ten Beautiful World's Fair News and book-lets.

BROWN CHEMICAL CO. BALTIMORE, MD.

NEAT'S BEATS

THEN ALL.

NEAT'S

SARSAPARILLA.

BEST BLOOD PURIFIER

IN THE WORLD.

Compounded of Nature's greatest curative herbs. Successful in all cases of blood poisoning, skin diseases, 20 years in the cure of all diseases arising from impure blood. Ask for "Neats" and take no other.

Neat's Sarsaparilla is for sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

PILES ITCHING PILES

SWAYNE'S OINTMENT

ABSOLUTELY CURSIVE. Sufferers from itching piles, hemorrhoids, etc., will find relief at once by applying Swayne's Ointment to the affected parts. It is the only remedy that will cure them. It is sold by all druggists and is the only one that will cure them. It is the only one that will cure them. It is the only one that will cure them.

SOLD BY R. C. HARDWICK.

WORMS!

WHITE'S CREAM

VERMIFUGE

FOR 23 YEARS

Has led all WORM Remedies.

EVERY BOTTLE GUARANTEED.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BURLINGTON, VERMONT, U. S. A.

CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.

A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE

known for 15 years as the

BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BURLINGTON, VERMONT, U. S. A.

CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.

A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE

known for 15 years as the

BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BURLINGTON, VERMONT, U. S. A.

CURES NOTHING BUT PILES.

A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE

known for 15 years as the

BEST REMEDY FOR PILES.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BURLINGTON, VERMONT, U. S. A.

Extraordinary cut in prices—
At
THE LEADER
How is This?

We have reduced the price of our entire stock of MIL-LINERY from a ten-cent SAILOR to our finest PATTERN HATS

1 THIRD OFF THEIR REGULAR VALUE

It will pay you to call and see for yourself that this

ASSERTION

is no

SHAM.

WE MEAN WHAT WE SAY.

THE LEADER,

Mme. Fleurette Levy Mgr.

At The Palace.

Prices Cut

Sailors! Shapes! Sailor

I have them. You want them. At prices from 10c to $2.00, all colors. I am daily receiving all the latest novelties

The Palace Leads

in Styles. Trimmed Hats from 25c to $5.00. Ribbons, Laces, Silks, Velvets, Flowers, Hair Ornaments, Ladies' Vests, Gloves, Silk Floss, Stamped Goods, Corsets, Hosiery. Also a full line of Butterick Patterns

MRS ADA LAYNE

CORNER 9TH & MAIN.

TERMS CASH

YOU CAN MAKE MONEY

By shipping to Herndon-Carter Company, Commission Merchants, Louisville, Ky., because they are the largest and most reliable commission merchants, and because they can handle shipments quick to the best advantage for the shipper. A trial shipment solicited. Write for terms for quotations before shipping. Specialties: Eggs, Butter, Poultry, Fruits of all kinds, Beans, Potatoes, Onions, Hay, Grain. Headquarters for Furs, Hides and Wool. Capital, $40,000. Liberal advances made on consignments. General correspondence solicited.

Lumber.

Hardware.

GOOD PURE WATER

GUARANTEED

ALL THE YEAR ROUND

FROM THE

PERFECT PUMPING PUMP.

SOLD IN QUANTITY. BEST IN QUALITY.

To Fit This Pump

IRON CISTERN CAPS

BUILDING MATERIALS

Of all Kinds.

Satisfaction

Guaranteed on all material sold

and work performed.

Plants, Specifications and Estimates

Promptly furnished.

Satisfaction

Guaranteed on all material sold

and work performed.

Plants, Specifications and Estimates

Promptly furnished.

Satisfaction

Guaranteed on all material sold

and work performed.

Plants, Specifications and Estimates

Promptly furnished.

Satisfaction

Guaranteed on all material sold

and work performed.

Plants, Specifications and Estimates

Promptly furnished.

OPPORTUNITIES

That Don't Occur Every day to the People of Christian County.

VALUES That must be seen to be appreciated will be offered to The People on next

SATURDAY, JULY 6, Continuing 30 Days.

This is the month in which we reduce our stock and get ready for another season, and our present sale will be characterized by the same wonderful bargains and irrepressible values as in the past, we intend to

REDUCE OUR STOCK

Before placing any orders for fall, and you know when we say we will do a thing we do it regardless of cost. We have just finished invoicing and have thrown out all Odds, Broken sizes and suits carried over from last year. These will be sold at less than the cost of the material. Our regular stock is not quite as large as it was at the beginning of the season, but it is about equal to any of our neighbors in quantity and Way Ahead in Quality. We can fit you and please you. Our regular stock--not including Odds and Ends--is divided into

FIVE LOTS AT FIVE PRICES.

SATURDAY, JULY 6, For THIRTY Days,

We will offer Goods at the following Murderously Low Prices:

CHILDREN'S SUITS AND FURNISHING GOODS.

Lot 1	Lot 2	Lot 3	Lot 4	Lot 5	Lot 6
$ 4.50	$ 5.50	$ 7.00	$ 10.00	$ 12.00	$ 4.99
Takes choice of men's and young men's	Takes choice of men's and young men's	Takes choice of men's and young men's	This price gets choice of our very STRONGEST line of suits. Men's and young men's suits and frocks, in all the new and popular shades, and every one Fine Imported Fabrics--Scottish, English and German textures. Suits that sold at	Takes choice of any suit in the house, either sack or frock, the finest goods that money can buy or the looms produce, all imported fabrics. Suits that sold at	Takes choice of over 200 suits, broken sizes, odds and ends, and suits brought over from last year. The latter are not cut quite as long as this seasons suits, but the price will make up for it. Suits that sold at
All Wool Suits in gray, brown, black and mixed Cassimeres--round and straight cut, sacks and frocks. Suits that sold at $6.60 and 7	All Wool Suits in gray, brown, black and mixed Scotch Cassimeres--round and straight cut, sacks and frocks. Suits that sold at $7.50, 8.50 and 9	All Wool Suits of every kind and description--sacks, round and straight cut, frocks--gray, brown, black and mixed Scotch and English Cassimeres. Suits that sold at $9.50, 10, 11 and 12	White and fancy hdkfs for 4c White, fancy and cambric hdkfs 8c 15c half linen hdkfs for 10c 25c pure linen hdkfs for 18c 35c pure linen hdkfs for 25c 50c initial silk hdkfs for 15c 50c silk jasp. hdkfs for 12c 10c boys suspenders for 7c 15c boys suspenders for 10c 25c boys suspenders for 15c 50c mens suspenders for 23c 50c mens suspenders for 25c 75c mens silk suspenders for 48c $1.25 mens silk & satin susp. for 1.00 25c empire silk garters for 15c 25c cuff buttons for 15c 75c cuff buttons for 1.00 1.00 cuff buttons for 1.50	4c Bl'chd drill dress for 29c 3c bro drill dress for 19c French balbriggan shirts 24c Imported fish-net shirts 40c Imported main-sox suits 77c Imported Harvard Mills suits 1.75 Imported french cotton suits 1.50 Imported hiale thread (shirts) 89c 50c und white shirt for 84c 75c und white shirt for 84c 1.00 und white shirt for 79c 25c shirt waists for 19c 50c shirt waists for 34c 1.00 shirt waists (star) for 69c Seamless cotton sox for 4c 15c bro blk and mixed sox for 10c 25c blk and mixed sox for 12c 35c blk and tan sox 19c	50c knee pants for 35c 50c overalls for 34c 75c overalls for 59c $1.00 overalls for 79c 1.50 half wool pants for $1.00 2.00 pin stripe wool for 1.25 50 Light Colored Pants at NET COST. $3.00 all wool pants for $2.00 4.00 all wool pants for 3.00 5.00 all wool pants for 4.00 CHOICE of 200 all wool jeans pants, grey, black or brown, unshredded, worth $1.25 and 1.50, all sizes for 69c 40c colored shirts for 25c 50c colored shirts for 34c 65c colored shirts for 49c 75c colored shirts for 50c 2 Doz. heavy work shirts worth from 50c to $1.00 19c Choice for 5c
KNEE PANT SUITS. $1.75 fancy suits, ages 3 to 8 years for $1.25 2.00 fancy suits, ages 3 to 8 yrs 1.50 2.50 fancy suits, ages 3 to 8 yrs 1.99 3.00 fancy suits, ages 3 to 8 yrs 2.25 4.00 fancy suits, ages 3 to 8 yrs 2.50 1.50 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 1.00 2.00 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 1.25 2.50 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 1.75 3.00 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 2.00 4.00 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 2.50 5.00 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 2.50 7.00 suits, ages 4 to 15 yrs 2.50 We have about 200 suits winter weight brought over from last winter that we will sell at HALF PRICE. Some wonderful values in this lot.	HATS. Lot child's hats worth 40c for 10c 50c boys crushers for 39c 50c mens' crushers for 39c 75c mens' and boy's crushers, pines for 49c 1.25 mens' crushers and Alpines for 69c 1.50 mens' crushers and Alpines for 89c 2.00 mens' full shape, Alpines, crushers for $1.00 2.50 mens' full shape crushers and Alpines for 1.25 3.00 mens' full shape crushers and Alpines for 1.50 5.00 Stetson's best for 2.00 1.50 stiff hats for 3.75 2.50 stiff hats for 1.00 3.00 stiff hats for 1.50 4.00 stiff hats Knox, for 1.75 5.00 stiff Knox best, for 2.50 25c boy's yacht caps for 3.25 50c boy's yacht caps for 31c Lot children's caps worth 50c and 75c for 10c Bargains in Straw Hats.	TRUNKS--VALISES 35c valise for 10c 45c valise for 39c 50c valise for 49c 75c valise for 59c 1.25 valise for 69c 1.50 valise for 89c 2.00 valise for 1.00 3.00 valise for 1.25 4.00 valise for 1.50 5.00 valise for 1.90 6.00 valise for 2.25 7.00 valise for 1.75 8.00 valise for 3.00 9.00 valise for 3.50 10.00 valise for 4.75 1.25 stiff case for 1.65 2.50 stiff case for 2.25 3.00 stiff case for 2.25 DON'T MISS THIS SALE You can find anything you want. 300 WINDOW TIES worth 35 and 50c, choice for..... 15c	Furnishing Goods. White and fancy hdkfs for 4c White, fancy and cambric hdkfs 8c 15c half linen hdkfs for 10c 25c pure linen hdkfs for 18c 35c pure linen hdkfs for 25c 50c initial silk hdkfs for 15c 50c silk jasp. hdkfs for 12c 10c boys suspenders for 7c 15c boys suspenders for 10c 25c boys suspenders for 15c 50c mens suspenders for 23c 50c mens suspenders for 25c 75c mens silk suspenders for 48c $1.25 mens silk & satin susp. for 1.00 25c empire silk garters for 15c 25c cuff buttons for 15c 75c cuff buttons for 1.00 1.00 cuff buttons for 1.50 ALL SCARF PINS AND COLLAR BUTTONS CHOICE OF ANY TIE IN THE HOUSE..... 39 cents	Furnishing Goods. 4c Bl'chd drill dress for 29c 3c bro drill dress for 19c French balbriggan shirts 24c Imported fish-net shirts 40c Imported main-sox suits 77c Imported Harvard Mills suits 1.75 Imported french cotton suits 1.50 Imported hiale thread (shirts) 89c 50c und white shirt for 84c 75c und white shirt for 84c 1.00 und white shirt for 79c 25c shirt waists for 19c 50c shirt waists for 34c 1.00 shirt waists (star) for 69c Seamless cotton sox for 4c 15c bro blk and mixed sox for 10c 25c blk and mixed sox for 12c 35c blk and tan sox 19c LOT EANCY BOSOM LAUND. SHIRTS, worth $1.25 & 1.50 for 64c Manhattan colored bosom shirts worth $1.50 for $1.00 Hickory hats all sizes 5c	Odd Pants. 50c knee pants for 35c 50c overalls for 34c 75c overalls for 59c $1.00 overalls for 79c 1.50 half wool pants for $1.00 2.00 pin stripe wool for 1.25 50 Light Colored Pants at NET COST. $3.00 all wool pants for $2.00 4.00 all wool pants for 3.00 5.00 all wool pants for 4.00 CHOICE of 200 all wool jeans pants, grey, black or brown, unshredded, worth $1.25 and 1.50, all sizes for 69c 40c colored shirts for 25c 50c colored shirts for 34c 65c colored shirts for 49c 75c colored shirts for 50c 2 Doz. heavy work shirts worth from 50c to $1.00 19c Choice for 5c

COX & BOULWARE.

Hopkinsville Kentucky.

PUBLISHED TUESDAY AND FRIDAY MORNING.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

SUBSCRIPTION A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

Local reading notices for each issue. Special Local notices for each issue. Rates for standing advertisements furnished on application.

OFFICE 213 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce

JUDGE JOHN PHELPS

as a candidate for Circuit Court Judge in this district, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election November 2, 1895.

We are authorized to announce

JUDGE THOMAS P. COOK

of Caloway county, as a candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court of this district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce

JUDGE THOS. J. MORROW,

as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the Third Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic Convention July 6.

By authority we announce

JUDGE T. J. WATKINS,

of Lyon county, as a candidate for Circuit

Judge of this, the Third Judicial district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor,

P. WATKINS, of Mercer.

For Lieutenant Governor,

B. T. TYLER, of Fulton.

For Treasurer,

R. C. FORD, of Clay.

For Auditor,

L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.

For Register of the Land Office,

G. B. SWANGO, of Wolfe.

For Attorney General,

W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming.

For Secretary of State,

HENRY H. HALE, of Taylor.

For Sup't. of Public Instruction,

ED. PORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.

For Commissioner of Agriculture,

JON B. NALL, of Louisville.

For Railroad Commissioners,

J. FLETCHER DEMPSEY, of Hopkins.

GEO. H. ALEXANDER, of Jefferson.

GREEN R. KELLAR, of Nicholas.

For Magistrate Pembroke District,

W. M. PARKER.

It is estimated that Kentucky's contribution to the government for the fiscal year amounts to $24,000,000.

The Baltimore Sun, not heretofore regarded as a humorous paper, has declared for Carlisle for president.

Infected chinch bugs have been scattered over several counties in Tennessee to save the crops from the pests.

With Governor Brown out of the race, the Kentuckian may be set down for Blackburn in the senatorial race.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Geo. W.

Drake, of Lexington, has mysteriously disappeared and his friends fear foul play.

The monument erected by the Orphan

Brigade to Gen. Roger W. Hanson and his wife, was dedicated at Lexington

Tuesday.

Warren county has instructed for the Honorable J. S. Lay, of Brownville, for senator from that district, as did the Allen county convention.

Mr. J. W. Harris, who has been for four years with the Owensboro Inquirer, has gone to Louisville to take a position on the Post as telegraph editor.

Simpson county Democrats have nominated Hon. W. Dinning for the legislature. Mr. Dinning is a free silver man and is pretty sure of election.

United States marshals are guarding the railroad property in the vicinity of Elkhorn against striking

West Virginia miners and serious trouble is feared.

If there is a Democrat in Christian county who will not support the ticket headed by Wat Hardin he has made the fact public. Christian county Democrats are true blue and an always be depended on.

The order making concurrent the sentence of E. V. Debs and other officers of the A. R. W. has been reinstated, and as a result Debs will serve but six months in jail and his asso-

The auction sales of tobacco Tuesday in Louisville, broke the record, a total of 1,283 hogheads being offered.

The Kentucky Republicans will establish their headquarters in Louisville and organize their Campaign

Committee next week.

Crops generally in the South have been injured by too much rain. The cotton crop is said to have suffered to a great extent in the past few days.

Gov. Culberson, of Texas, has written a letter declaring himself for free silver coinage, but saying that he will support the Democratic ticket, whatever the action of the conventions.

Postmaster, General Wilson has amended the postal laws and regulations so as to prohibit postal clerks from opening more than one sack of mail at the same time. The object of the order is to assist in fixing the responsibility for mistakes.

The president has granted a pardon to Edmund L. Crittenden, of this state, convicted of stealing mail matter and sentenced in June last to 18 months imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary.

The Tennessee Centennial Exhibition will be celebrated now beyond doubt. The Nashville city council voted to submit to a vote of the people, the proposition to subscribe $100,

000 to the enterprise. Already $75,

000 has been subscribed.

The Owensboro Post has this:

Here is how local Democratic figures out Hardin's election as the next governor of Kentucky:

WAT.

WILLIAM.

TOM.

The leading Populists of this country are disgusted with Pettit's nomination for governor. Many of them openly declare that they will not vote for him. They say he showed himself incapable of leadership when he let Ellis run him off the stump in his county in 1892.

Five members of the family of Mr.

Geo. G. Delker, one of the leading citizens of Owensboro, were poisoned Sunday by eating ice cream from impure milk. None of them were seriously ill. This is the second instance of typhoid poisoning that has occurred there within a week.

The Bowling Green Sunday Journal is of the opinion that Warren county, although she had no candidate for any place on the Democratic ticket recently nominated, will ask for something yet, and that in the near future. It says: "The third congressional district had no candidate for any place on the Democratic ticket, but we want to serve notice right now that Warren county will present a candidate for Librarian

when the legislature meets, and we intend to put that candidate in to win. Our candidate is Miss Emma Guy, of this city, a young lady in every way worthy of this position, and one who would discharge the duties incumbent upon her to the satisfaction of all concerned. Miss

Guy made an exceedingly creditable race before, and starts in this time with many assurances of support. All you candidates who received a life with Warren county's big fourteen votes be ready to lend a helping hand

when we call on you."

The Annual Outing to Old Point.

As has been customary for several years past, another personally conducted excursion will be run to the seashore this summer, leaving Aug.

7th, and all who want an instructive and beneficial outing should take this most delightful trip. It is useless to speak of the special features of the trip, and the pains taken to make everything first class in every particular, and from the time you start until you return, a beautiful panorama is offered for your inspection, and the many places to be visited at such small cost enables you to profitably spare. This is by far the most delightful trip offered the traveling public, and you should make your ar-

Scrofula, Salt Rheum

And All Other Blood Diseases—How

They May Be Cured.

Speaking simply from what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done, not only once or twice, but in thousands of cases, we can honestly say that it is the best remedy for all diseases of the blood, whatever the cause.

By its peculiar combination, Proportion and Process, it possesses positive medicinal merit peculiar to itself.

It has cured the most violent cases of Scrofula and Salt Rheum, even when all other prescriptions and medicines have failed to do any good.

Blood poisoning, from whatever origin, yields to its powerful cleansing, purifying, vitalizing effect upon the blood. If you desire further particulars, write to us as below.

Remember that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the One True Blood Purifier prominently in the public eye today. Prepared only by

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

Sold by all druggists. Price, six for $5.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner

Pills. They assist digestion.

MATRIMONIAL.

GOODE—CARR.—Rev. Jas. C. Goode

of this city, and Miss Nora Carr, of Purser Station, Mo., were married at Camden Point, Mo., June 26. Rev.

Geo. W. Everett, of the latter place, performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Goode arrived in the city Tuesday night on a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Goode, the groom's parents, who had not been apprised of the happy event until their arrival.

The groom has gone to Beaver Dam, where he will assist in a meeting. On his return he will make his future home in this city.

DEATHS.

ARMSTRONG.—Mrs. Kate Armstrong

died at her home near Crofton one week past, after a long illness. She had been a member of the Methodist church for several years.

COLORED.

TRENK.—An 18-months-old son of

Wm. Turner died of fever near Herndon Saturday.

Where to Stop at Dawson.

When you go to Dawson Springs,

Ky., stop at the Summit House.

Rates $7 per week, $25 per day, including meals. Children, half rates. Special rates to families and parties of five or more from the same place.

This hotel has been greatly improved and is situated on a beautiful elevation. Is convenient to the springs and depot, and is acknowl-

ed to have the coolest, most healthful and pleasant location of any hotel in Dawson. Guests of the Summit can sit in their rooms and drink

any of Dawson life-living waters

free of charge.

Correspondence solicited and cheerfully answered. Clerk and porters to meet trains.

B. H. RAMSEY, Prop'r.

Life of Nancy Hanks.

We are in receipt of a handsomely bound little volume containing a life of the "Queen of Turf," Nancy Hanks, together with all of her performances.

The volume contains, among other things, a description of the many diseases of live stock together with their treatment; also the standard of registration of the American Trotting Register and of the National Saddle Horse

Breeder's Register, and a complete list of Horse Breeders' Association. It also contains the fastest trotting and pacing records in races, against time and at different ages. The book is full of valuable suggestion in regard to livestock. The publishers, The H. L.

Lohmeyer Drug Co., Pittsburg,

Pa., will sell this interesting volume free to all who apply for one, although the regular price is 50 cents.

Mrs. Baker, of Dickinson Court

House, Va., aged 69 years, has just been appointed mayor in her district, which is one of the wildest in Virginia.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, ss.

LUCAS COUNTY,

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J.

Positions Guaranteed

Under reasonable conditions. Do not say it can't be done, till you send for 100 page

catalogue of DRUGGISTS' PRACTICAL BUS-INESS COLLEGE, Nashville, Tenn. This college is strongly endorsed by bankers and merchants all over the United States, as well as foreign countries. FOUR weeks by druggistry as a method of teaching book-keeping is equal to TWELVE months of the old plan. Special advantages in shorthand, penmanship and telegraphy.

Class held, open to both sexes, at states and territories now represented.

Send for catalogue, has prepared a course in "Home Study," book-keeping, penmanship</

AROUND AND ABOUT.

NOTHING BUT NEWS FOUND IN THIS COLUMN.

A Condensed Account of the Latest Happenings Tarely Told for Busy Readers.

Kentucky will have three Southern Methodist conferences within its borders in the month of September as follows: Western Virginia conference at Louisa, Sept. 4th, presided over by Bishop Duncan; Kentucky conference at Winchester, Sept. 11th, presided over by Bishop Haygood; Louisville conference at Madisonville, Sept. 25th, presided over by Bishop Haygood.

The Henderson Journal says: A number of well known Hendersonians got together a day or two ago and formed an organization to be known as the Henderson G. C. Club. The main interest of the club is to promote a spirit of good fellowship between local sportsmen, and to protect the Henderson game as far as possible.

John Cunningham, an aeronaut, was instantly killed at Winigan, Mo. He had made three successful ascensions during the day. The fourth time when about 1,200 feet high, he cut loose, but the parachute failed to open and his body was mashed to a pulp.

Bob Thompson, colored light-weight of Salt Lake, and Jim Thomkins, also colored, of Galveston, fought nine bloody rounds near Kansas City, Tuesday a purse of $3000. Tompkins was counted out in the ninth round. His face was a mass of bruises and cuts.

J. H. Hermann, on behalf of Tom Dixon, has deposited $500 to bind a match between Dixon, the western champion, and George Dixon, the world's featherweight champion, the contest to take place at the same week as the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

Two negro brothers, Wash and Russ Lyne, shot and instantly killed Luther Ryan, col., at a negro festival at Gordonville, Logan county, Monday night. Two boys went entirely through Ryan's body. No arrests have yet been made.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Catholic Abstinence Union of Ohio and Commandery Knights of Father Matthew of America is in session at Warren, O., with about fifty societies represented.

A watermelon train was wrecked near a colored church north of Richmond, Va. The congregation promptly adjourned, and by night nothing but rinds were to be seen in that section.

At Evansville Jas. Kuykendall, while catching a game of base ball was shot and killed by Ben Sandefur, who was a square away shooting at a bird on a telephone wire.

It is reported that the notorious "Red" railroad bill, shot and killed the sheriff of Escambia county, Ala., making the second sheriff of the county he has slain.

Rice Barton, colored, who shot and killed Andrew Brown, colored, near Nashville January 10th and was Wednesday sentenced to be hanged August 16.

At Meadville, Mo., S. A. Fields, a county editor, cut his wife's throat with a razor, then his baby's and finally his own. All three of them died.

There are 908 saloons in Louisville and 840 of them renewed their license this week.

Pembroke Splinters.

PEMBROKE, July 7.—Miss Annie Kesse, of Clarksville, left yesterday accompanied by Misses Alma and Ruth Paine who will be her guest for several weeks.

Misses Lollie and Lucile Phillips will leave Tuesday for Dawson Springs for a ten days sojourn. Miss Cecil Holloway, of Hopkinsville, was in our town on Friday, remaining over to Gordon's lecture that evening.

Miss Mollie Graves will leave in a few days for Quincy, Ill., for a visit of several weeks. She will be accompanied by her father.

Miss Susie Reynolds of Allensville, Ky., is the charming guest of Miss Pearl Garrett, of the country.

Miss V. A. Garnett will go to Boston with the Christian Endeavorers' also Mrs. Allen, of the country.

New Magistrate Appointed.

CADIZ, July 11.—Mr. George Atwood, of Canton, has been appointed by Judge G. B. Bingham a magistrate in the Canton district, to take the place of Esq. T. N. Ingram deceased.

Bicycle Races at Mercer Park.

There will be bicycle and foot races with attractive and useful prizes at Mercer park, Tuesday July 16. Races will begin at 4:30 o'clock p. m. Admission, 25 cents for men, 10 cents for ladies. The track is in fine condition and great sport is expected. Every lover of healthful and useful recreation should attend.

William H. Harrison has been appointed Register of the Land Office at Evid, Oklahoma.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Cuticura. When she was a Child, also cried for Cuticura. When she became Miss, she clung to Cuticura. When she had Children, she gave them Cuticura.

The Chautauqua Fair.

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 4.—This national day is truly a gala day in this city. On Main street one might imagine himself traveling the renowned Broadway and trying by main force and awkwardness to thread his way through the struggling mass of humanity.

Soon, however, the crowd is gradually transferred by elegantly finished electric cars to the celebrated Chautauqua grounds at Woodlawn Park. This is the most beautiful spot of the kind in the State and Lexington is justly proud of it. An auditorium seating more than 3,000 persons, a Minister's hall and other public buildings for the use of teachers and instructors, adorn the interior, while rustic seats under the shadows of many trees are temptingly placed for lovers of quiet measure and those who may wish to meditate on the true beauties of nature; also in the midst of which is the band stand, and from which the morning, afternoon and evening air vibrates with some stirring and patriotic airs.

Around the outer circle of Woodlawn park may be seen some 40 or 50 tents. These are for the convenience and pleasure of those who wish to take advantage of the entire Chautauqua course, or who with a congenial party of friends desire to spend the time amidst such array of musical and intellectual treats.

This fourth of July has been the banner day of any ever held in this city. Some 15,000 people have visited the grounds during the day. The program for the day was a very interesting and profitable one.

Beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning a famous Indian band made the air echo our patriotic airs; at 9 o'clock, Biblical Exposition—"Healing the Nobleman's Son," Dr. Parkhurst. It is worth while to mention that it is creditable to the Chautauqua Assembly, having secured the services of such a man throughout the season.

Following Dr. Parkhurst was a lecture not soon to be forgotten, by the Statesman orator, Gen. John B. Gordon—"The Last Days of the Confederacy." An audience of about 6,000 greeted him with waving handkerchiefs and eager, smiling faces, many wishing to catch a first glimpse of the great confederate general.

Again in the afternoon no less a person than the gifted Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage took the stand and commenced by saying that he had once been taken by a man who had been Henry Clay's barber for a near relation of that honored gentleman. Dr. Talmage discoursed in a masterly way on the resources of America, her doing great things and becoming a greater nation than she now is. Many and hearty were the hand shakes he received.

Concluding the lectures again came the evening band concert, and while music was in the air those on the grounds spread their lunches and discoursed on the passing pleasures. The grounds were filled with blue grass beauties (and you know (?) it takes that to make the fourth or any other day a success) who animated the whole scene.

The services of the evening began promptly at 7:30 o'clock with the celebrated Arion Lady Quartette, of Chicago, who charmed the audience with the rendition of the national airs, "Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie," etc. They were recalled again and again. Then came the renowned Miss Julia Phelps, the famous Baptist, of Chicago. The grand concert was concluded with a violin solo by Prof. Neville.

This musical program was a delightful treat to all, and crowds by hundreds from the city enjoyed it. Concluding the fourth at Chautauqua was the "Last of the Mohicans," illustrated by tableaux vivans or living pictures. Many of the crowd could not get within the auditorium, and so missed this part of the entertainment. The grand finale consisted of fireworks, making in all the grandest day ever held at the Chautauqua grounds. Everyone went home pleased with the day's program and also "that tired feeling."

In addition to the Chautauqua Lexington's population was still further increased by those attending the trot; and an enjoyable day was spent at the German picnic the most amusing features of which were the pony race, mule race, wheelbarrow race, apple eating contest, which latter deserves some explanation. The apples were suspended across the track; the contestants' hands were tied from behind and the first who disposed of his apple received the prize.

Another amusing game was the spring board jump into a sack containing flour. You could realize the fun until you see the winner be he.

The waltz contest also attracted much interest. The two most graceful waltzers received a prize. This account gives one but a small idea of the fourth as it was observed here. T. D. A.

Robt. Ford Loses a Foot.

Robt. Ford, a brakeman on freight train No. 59, on the L. & N. road, met with a serious accident at Sebree Monday which will cripple him for life. He had run ahead of the train and makes a change the switch and by some means his left foot slipped and went under the wheels of the train just as it passed him, mashing it in a horrible manner. Dr. J. H. Letcher, the road surgeon, was summoned from Henderson and successfully amputated the injured foot just above the ankle, and Ford's chances for recovery are considered good.

The Bell, one of the largest retail houses in Chicago, has assigned.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, DR.

ICE CREAM BAKING POWDER
MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant. 40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

A Hopkinsville Man Unwound.

(Clarkeville East-Chronicle.) "Sunday during the high water in Spring Creek, near Taylor's old mill, Lige Meriwether, a negro man about 25 years of age, attempted to cross the creek on horse back, and was pulled off the animal by the strong current and drowned. The horse succeeded in getting out. Meriwether was unable to stem the high tide, and his body was found the next morning in a drift pile some distance below the ford." Meriwether formerly lived in this city, but went to Tennessee several years ago.

IMPORTANT!

To the Citizens of Hopkinsville and Christian County.

For a Hopkinsville and Christian county institution we ask your inspection and patronage of our new and elegant boarding, feed and sale stable just completed for us on 9th street, near the L. & N. R. depot, which will be found to be the largest, best equipped and handsomest establishment of the kind in the city, or in the entire south.

WE GUARANTEE such good care and treatment of your horses as you can find nowhere else, as one visit to our stable will convince you. For either permanent or transient board, or when your horse may become lame or sick, we also guarantee you such attention for his cure, you cannot find anywhere else.

ON THE GROUND FLOOR, 40 feet wide by 110 feet long, with wide carriage-way in center from end to end. We have sixteen box stalls, which for room, light, pure air and ventilation, and all the most modern appointments will be found unequalled for the comfort of horses, with feed the best that money can buy, and the best personal attention given for their welfare. All the stalls on the ground floor are for boarding and feeding horses alone.

In the front part of the building on the ground floor we have fitted up also a handsome ladies' parlor, newly furnished with all the necessary conveniences for the comfort of our city and country lady friends when they call and for their exclusive use.

ON THE UPPER FLOOR, 40 feet wide by 80 feet long, we devote exclusively to the special care and treatment of horses which may be lame or sick—but no animal admitted to any part of our stable which has any contagious disease or suspected of having such.

We have been known long enough in Hopkinsville to establish our reputation as the best place for the care and breeders of horses as successful Veterinary Surgeons, and in our new building have unsurpassed facilities, and with all the latest and most improved appliances in the veterinary profession, have every convenience for attending to all cases in the best manner possible, and having been specially equipped for it, with diplomas from the celebrated Veterinary College in Toronto, Canada, have confidence in offering our services to all who have not yet called upon us.

In ALL CASES OF LAMENESS, SWELLINGS we ask you particularly to call upon us at once if you wish your horse cured, and not delay until some ignorant fool or fraud (in attempting to cure your horse) has done him infinite harm and rendered him probably beyond human skill for recovery.

OUR CHARGES ARE STRICTLY MODERATE in all departments, to rich and poor alike.

WE BUY, SELL AND EXCHANGE HORSES, and make examinations as to soundness when required by intending purchasers.

We do not hire out or lend horses or vehicles of any description, but leave that to lively stable keepers.

For the patronage received we are grateful and hope to merit a continuance.

Citizens of Hopkinsville and Christian county may now understand we have come to stay and are permanently settled here, offering such advantages in the care of horses (whether well or sick) never enjoyed in Hopkinsville before, in a building citizens can point to with some degree of pride and satisfaction as unequalled. Mules, cows and all domestic animals treated when sick. We attend to calls at any hour, day or night, in city or county, promptly.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION NO. 80.

We invite you to call and see us and judge for yourselves what we can do for you when required.

BRADLEY BROTHERS.

DR. SAM'L A. BRADLEY, V. S., }
DR. ROBT. LEE BRADLEY, V. S., }
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Here is a Fair Proposition!

We will trade any farmer one of our latest improved wagons for as much wheat as it can bring into market, wheat to be in first-class order and grade good No. 2. After unloading the wheat we will give him fifty (50) bushels of coal to carry back home—free of charge.

In BUGGIES

we have this year far surpassed any previous record. Our stock was more carefully selected and was bought cheaper. Goods well bought are already half sold. Come and JOIN IN THE PROCESSION.

We have a very full line of HARNESS, SADDLERY and FLY NETS. TALBOT SADDLES made to order.

Majestic Range.

This is a cut of the

Majestic Range,

which cooks the goose of all our competitors.

It is the housekeepers pride and a married man's peace maker. You cannot afford to use that old cracked cast iron imitation any longer. Save fuel, save patience, save money by buying a Majestic steel range.

For a

Following Plow

Get a True Blue or a Vulcan. BOTH GUARANTEED.

The wear and tear of the season has demonstrated clearly the superiority of the Columbia and Victor bicycles. They never come into the repair shop.

GUNS, PISTOLS, FINE POCKET KNIVES and the most superior line of razors ever on sale in the city.

A full line of Granite, Tin and steel cooking utensils.

FORBES & BRO.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curls, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when we will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. P. Kneeland, Croy, Ark.

The Centaur Company, 77 Murray Street, New York City.

CHAPTER XXI.

A NOBLE COUNT.

"News, news, news! What will you give me to tell you the most wonderful piece of news you ever heard?" Mr. Woodgrove asked at breakfast one morning.

"The young people have had a house of their own across the way, they took their meals to the Woodgrove mansion and consequently were present at this exciting moment."

"Good and bad," said Mr. Woodgrove.

"Good, royal, grand."

"Of whom?" demanded Elsie.

"Of a friend of yours, my dear."

"Oh, do tell me, I'm longing to know it."

"Then hold your tongue, love," said Mr. Woodgrove, said, laughing, "for Marcus could not keep a secret for five consecutive minutes."

"Well," remarked the old man, "I may as well paralyze you at once—Mrs. Clarence Grindlay is going to be married."

"Oh, Marcus, at her time of life?"

"Yes, and what's the worst of it—I mean the best of it—is that she is going to wed a German."

"Not Count Von Thun?" Elsie asked.

"Oh, I did not like him."

"Did you not, darling?"

"Well, it's all settled, but I'm so uneasy over my spilled milk. Now, here's where we come in. Marcus is going to give a ball on Wednesday evening to celebrate his lordly capture, and we've been hidden guests—now, who will go?"

"Not I," Mrs. Woodgrove said, dejectedly.

"Not I, my dear, you, Marcus must accompany them out of respect to Marcus."

"Perhaps in no city of the world can such unbounded, no-doubt extravagance be witnessed as in New York, the capital of the land of republican simplicity. Ostentation and rank seem more natural ally associated, but, bless your life, when John Smith, who never had a recognized grandfather, has made his pile, he knows how to lord it with the best of them."

The Grindlay mansion on the night of the ball outshone the Alhambra palace. The flowers for decoration cost five thousand dollars; gorgeous servants—twenty years ago one saw no liveries in the Empire city—were in plenty; and astra hung dainty plates tipped with tiny electric lights. Rooms hung with rich draperies, floors covered with carpets from the looms of Turkey, soft and responsive to the tread of the foot; delicate hand-painted and glowing in rich colors; fantastic tables and chairs of quaint device; costly inlaid cabinets; rich vases; priceless china—it was like a vision of fairyland, only, after all, as sensible Marcus Woodgrove observed, it was the fairyland of the stage—none could help expecting to see Harlequin plunging through an old "family picture" or a Columbian pinnetting on the polished floor.

No man in his senses would dare a description of the fair owners of these delights. She was radiant as a dream, for Worth had out-Worthed himself for the occasion; yet, as one gazed at the diamonds, sparkling like dew drops over wondering how much she would bet at auction if sold just as she stood.

Baron Von Thun must be a proud man this night to survey these countless signs of untold wealth and say, "In seven days all this shall be mine."

Elsie, in her white robe and simple wreath of flowers, looked like a snow-drop which had tumbled into a gorgeous bed of tulips. She had one little shadow of disappointment. Frank, her darling Frank, was not flawless, he, all night, with the natural perfume of the beautiful, which his wife instinctively enjoyed, saw nothing incongruous, no lack of harmony in all the barbaric pomp around him, nay, even revelled in its very gorgeousness.

Mr. Woodgrove was, as he put it, "mad as a hatter."

"She might have founded a hospital with what to-night's sumptuary will cost her," he said indignantly, "and all in honor of a foreigner."

Two grunting pigs passed at that moment, and Elsie was amused to hear them murmur, "dear, dear baron."

"Isn't he a love?"

"So distinguished looking!"

"But his accent, they say, is not very good."

"Pshaw, dear, you couldn't expect a baron to talk like a college professor. Such a man sets the fashion of pronunciation."

To be sure he does. Oh, isn't Mrs. Grindlay lucky to have captured him? Why, a hundred handsome girls with oceans of money would have jumped at him."

But see! The baron approaches our little group with his promised bribe upon his arm.

Elsie was overwhelmed with confusion, but the older lady was too happy to be ungracious.

"My dearest," she gushed, "I am charmed to see you. Uncle, it is good of you to have come. Let me present the guest of the evening, Baron Albert von Thun of Carlsbad."

Elsie curtsied, the count bowed. They had met before; but Mr. Woodgrove scandalized his niece by seating the baron's hand and placing it heartily and assuring him of his pleasure in meeting him.

"My husband, Mrs. Grindlay!" Elsie blushing, ventured, standing aside that Frank might come to the front.

"Ah, Mr. Grey," said that lady all smiles. "I have delighted to meet one of whom I have heard so much. Permit me to make you known to my friend Count von Thun."

The baron, who had scarcely concealed to glance at the new acquaintance and expect the same professor, heartiness he had experienced at the hands of Mr. Woodgrove, held out his hand, when, to Elsie's horror, Grey, who had half-advanced his own, drew it back, bowed, and said:

"Sir, we have met before!"

A bombshell exploded, it could not have caused greater confusion among the little group.

The baron's face turned livid with shock, his eyes were full of tears, and his hands were outstretched in a gesture of surprise and indignation.

"What a well-remembered country," Grey cried, going to the window and gazing with his first sight of rural England. "One would think they combed the grass and brushed the trees."

But her voice with more enthusiasm burst forth in a perfect song of delight:

"To me it is a vision of Paradise tinged with the hallowed essence of home."

Then Gregson came and spelled the picture. He had traveled in hot haste from London to meet them at this rendezvous, and was, if possible, more objectionable in dress and manner than fairing, but Mrs. Grindlay with exquisite tact, though having seen nothing of countenance, laid her hand on the count's arm and led him away, saying with a pleasant smile to Elsie: "You must go to the children, dear, they are just wild to see you."

"In heaven's name, ma'am," gasped Woodgrove, inexpressibly shocked. "Do you know what you have done?"

"Perfectly well do I know what I have done," Grey answered gravely but firmly. "That man is no more a German baron than I am. He is a scoundrel."

"Who?"

"Herr Schlossinger, the socialist!"

The old man was so shocked that for a few moments he could not speak.

"Are you sure?" he asked. "May it not have been a case of mistaken identity?"

"Nay, I am certain."

"What is to be done?"

"I cannot say. I only know what Elsie and I are going to do. We shall start at once back to the hotel."

"But, Marcus, surely we must not leave her in his clutches!"

"For to-night, at least, we must; for to risk a scene here would be frightful."

When morning came Mr. Woodgrove announced his intention of going at once to his niece, but meanwhile Frank had been up with the lark and prepared his batteries, and he opened them upon the formidable German, whose hold on the enraptured widow he forebode would be too loose to be shattered by any unstatistical testimony of his. A telegram to Col. Gilchrist, the reformer and editor of the Chicago Labor Times, had brought back the sharp reproof of his children here destitute. Came the fifth anniversary of his death.

Armed with this important misadventure the two gentlemen went on their way to the Fifth Avenue mansion.

Early as it was, to Mr. Woodgrove's disgust, the widow was unapproachable, and Schlossinger had been delegated to receive them.

"Herr Schlossinger," Frank began at once, plunging in modifier with a stern resolution to hurry through a disagreeable duty, "I have this day received a communication from Col. Gilchrist, which has already been received by your track and—"

The agitator's lip curled contemptuously.

"You let off firecrackers and think them bombs," he sneered. "I sent them the full amount of the discrepancy two days ago, and have received the treasurer's acknowledgment by telegram."

"Borrowed I suppose," Mr. Woodgrove interrupted. "From your unfortunate victim upstairs?"

"That is my business, sir."

"And so," Grey continued, "you are determined to marry Mrs. Grindlay?"

"Most certainly I am, if she will have me."

"Now understanding the little circumstance of a wife in Chicago and a helpless children? Is Mrs. Grindlay content to pension them, or will you take the whole thing upon your ancestral castle in Friesland?"

The poor wretch's jaw dropped. He stood as though turned to stone.

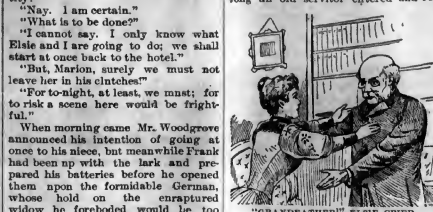

"So, you see, man, your game is up. You had better throw yourself on the mercy of the court," Grey said, decisively.

"You told the trump cards, I am beaten," was the spiritless answer, "so do your worst."

Now it was Mr. Woodgrove's turn to take a hand in affairs.

"Frank," he said, impressively, "we must not be too hard on this poor character, for he is a grand creature, a true rascal in the phenomenal folly of my niece, who has gone about for years like a silly sheep shaking her golden fleece and waiting for every advent of 'Come, cheer me.' No, I don't think we must be too rough on Schlossinger."

"You are right," said Grey, "but the poor old fellow is a German, and he is contented with his own kind of life, and Mrs. Grindlay registered a vow that she would never again live in Friesland, and the Butler's satisfaction of her friends and children."

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and replied that the Countess of Argyll was not at home.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried. "You're not in it," misinterpreted Gregson, "as I'm not wanted to do the introduction. I guess I'll go back to the Bull's Head and wait orders. It ain't schin' for an interview."

Frank gladly excused him.

Meanwhile Elsie Grey stood in the great library facing her grandfather—nerves on the same spot where twenty years before her mother's uncle had made the infamous compact that had condemned her childhood to the care of humble strangers.

She looked nervously at the tall, stooping figure before her. How different he was from the man she had pictured. His face was so sweet and expression, his voice so low and musical that all fear died from her on the instant.

"My child! my dear, dear child!" he faltered.

"Grandfather!" Elsie cried, with quivering lips, as she flew to his arms. Again and again he kissed her, and it was long before the first passion of the meeting had subsided and their nerves were sufficiently under restraint to enable them to sit and converse like rational beings.

It seemed a long time to poor Frank, who all deserted at the poor drawing-room devoured with anxiety about his girl-wife, who had disappeared some time ago, and he had not had half made up his mind to rush to the rescue, when the door opened, and Elsie appeared leaning lovingly on the arm of her grandfather.

"And this is my husband, Frank Grey," she said proudly. "You must be fond of my father."

"Nay, for his sake, I am sure," said Sir Gordon Hillborough, grasping the young man's hand warmly. "But," he added with a little smile, "I had been told he was an American."

"And so I am, sir," Frank declared stoutly.

"Yet, really you look—"

"Oh," cried Elsie, merrily, "I do believe grandfather expected to see an American of the stage, with a well-tailored coat and nasal drawl, who would send him into buying wooden nutmegs and sawdust hams."

"I am reproved, my dear, but surely this young man is not a type of his countrymen, is he, child?"

"No, sir," said Frank, interrupted, laughing, "there are tens of thousands of better men than I am in the land I came from."

"There is not one," said Elsie.

[THE END.]

Elsie will never forget that little drive to the Scotch Abbey. She used to think that in that short half-mile she had at least a dozen originals of the faintest esquisses that ever graced the pages of the English poet's own notebook.

At length the park gates were reached and the carriage swept up the broad driveway under the elms, starting the deer, and when the old Elizabethan house rose to view, the enchanted girl could not repress a cry of pure delight.

Servants met the carriage as it dashed under the broad portico, and they were ushered into a drawing-room, there to await the pleasure of the old man at whose request they had journeyed so far over land and sea.

Nor was their patience tried, for ere long an old servant entered and re-

LOUISVILLE, ST. LOUIS & TEXAS RAILWAY.
SCHEDULE IN EFFECT MAY 1, 1895.

WEST BOUND	No. 54.	No. 51.
	Daily.	Daily.
St. Louis	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Went Point	8:15 a.m.	8:15 a.m.
Irvington	8:30 a.m.	8:30 a.m.
Greenville	8:45 a.m.	8:45 a.m.
Hopkinsville	9:00 a.m.	9:00 a.m.
Paducah	9:15 a.m.	9:15 a.m.
Owensboro	9:30 a.m.	9:30 a.m.
St. Louis	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.

EAST BOUND

No. 54.	No. 51.
Daily.	Daily.
St. Louis	7:30 a.m.	7:30 a.m.
Went Point	7:45 a.m.	7:45 a.m.
Irvington	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Greenville	8:15 a.m.	8:15 a.m.
Hopkinsville	8:30 a.m.	8:30 a.m.
Paducah	8:45 a.m.	8:45 a.m.
Owensboro	9:00 a.m.	9:00 a.m.
St. Louis	9:30 a.m.	9:30 a.m.

For further information, address
H. C. MORRIS, A. G. P. A.
Louisville, Ky.

W. L. MILLER, Owensboro, Ky.

O. V. Time Table.

TRAIN GOING SOUTH.	No. 1 Daily.	No. 4 Daily.
	Mail Express.	Mail Express.
St. Louis	8:00 a.m.	8:00 a.m.
Went Point	8:15 a.m.	8:15 a.m.
Irvington	8:30 a.m.	8:30 a.m.
Greenville	8:45 a.m.	8:45 a.m.
Hopkinsville	9:00 a.m.	9:00 a.m.
Paducah	9:15 a.m.	9:15 a.m.
Owensboro	9:30 a.m.	9:30 a.m.
St. Louis	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.

Professional Cards.

J. H. HANBERT, FRANK BELL, LAWYERS.
Practice in the Courts of Christian and adjoining counties—Office City Hall Building, Court square, HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

FRANK RIVES, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, HOPKINSVILLE, - Ky.
OFFICE OVER PLASTER'S BANK.

W. S. WITHERS, ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT-LAW.
Office over the Bank, HOPKINSVILLE, - KY.

Andrew Seargent, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
OFFICE: Fifth and Main streets, opposite City Court Square.

H. H. SKERRITT, Painter—do & Paper—h Hangar.
Done with Neatness and Dispatch and at Low Prices.

Dr. H. H. Wallace, -PHYSICIAN & SURGEON-
-Hopkinsville, Ky.-
OFFICE: Up stairs opposite Telephone office corner of Main and Seventh streets.

E. C. ANDERSON, Physician and Surgeon.
Office over Bank of Hopkinsville, Moore from 7:30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Junius C. McDavitt, DENTIST.
Office over Kelly's Jewelry Store, HOPKINSVILLE, - Ky.

BARBER SHOP, W. W. GRAY, PROP.
6 NINTH ST., NEAR HAMPOIR, SHAVING 25 CENTS UP.

Do You Want to Stop Tobacco?
Nothing but first-class work and all done in latest fashion.

Go To LOUISVILLE, KY.
Have your Photograph made at WYBRANT'S NEW STUDIO.

Do You Want to Stop Tobacco?
Nothing but first-class work and all done in latest fashion.

Do You Want to Stop Tobacco?
Nothing but first-class

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Judge M. D. Brown left for Nashville, Ill., yesterday on legal business. His daughter Miss Lilly, accompanied him and will spend several weeks visiting friends at Ashley, Ill.

"Dick," Boyd who left this city about two years ago and located in Texas, arrived in the city this week and will spend some time with his parents.

Mr. Will Dickerson and wife, Mrs. R. S. Dickerson and Mrs. Jennie Broughall, all of Trenton, spent yesterday with the family of Mr. J. Mat Adams.

Messrs. J. W. McGeehe, of Clarksville, H. L. Dulin, of Springfield, and R. S. McGeehe, of Pembroke, were in the city Tuesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Elliott, of Owensboro, arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon on a short visit to Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheeler.

Mrs. Harriet Rogers left yesterday for Pembroke to visit friends. She will also spend a few days in Elkhart before her return.

Misses Leah Lander, of Louisville, and Cornelia Blakeley, of Morton's Gap, are visiting relatives near Gray city this week.

Miss Willie May Rives, of Christian county, is the guest of Mrs. J. D. Moore this week—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

Mrs. J. B. McKenzie has gone to Rockbridge Co., Va., to spend the remainder of the summer with relatives.

Mrs. Minnie Montcastle and her two sons, of Georgia, are the guests of the family of Mr. John Bryan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Uterback, of Paducah, visited the family of Mr. J. W. Yancey this week.

Misses Ada Boyd and Annie Cox of the Kelly neighborhood, visited the city Wednesday.

Mrs. Lucien Davis is spending sometime with relatives in Springfield, Tenn.

Miss Minnie Cardwell, of Evansville, is the guest of Mrs. J. D. Hill this week.

Mrs. J. R. Wimp, of Irvington, Ky., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bailey Waller.

Miss Mattie Johnson, of Owensboro, is the guest of Mrs. S. W. Taliaferro.

Mrs. Alex Campbell is visiting the family of Dr. J. P. Peyton, near Cass Ky.

Mr. Ed Cunningham, of Madisonville, is in the city this week on business.

Mr. Geo. Hart, of Nashville, is at home on a short visit to his parents.

Mrs. I. P. Gerhart, of Clarksville, is visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. John C. Gary went to Dawson yesterday to spend a few days.

Miss Mary Barbour is spending the week at Cerulean.

Mr. C. M. Brown visited Evansville this week.

In Your Blood
Is the cause of that tired, languid feeling which afflicts you at this season. The blood is impure and has become thin and poor. That is why you have no strength, no appetite, cannot sleep. Purify your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which will give you an appetite, tone your stomach, and invigorate your nerves.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy in action and sure in effect. 25c.

The gross earnings of the L. & N. for the year ending July 1, were $19,293,197, an increase of $288,866.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adopting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs. Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers, and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from any objectionable substance. Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

HERE AND THERE.

The Fairview Review in referring to the Shanklin-Richardson tragedy which occurred near Clarksville about ten days ago, says: Shanklin was raised near here and has many friends who will regret to hear of his trouble. There was not a more peaceable and quiet man anywhere than Ed. Tom Shanklin. The Review believes he was justifiable in doing what he did, for we have known him from his childhood and never knew of his having a difficulty with any one.

Prof. J. C. Duffy will give special instruction to school pupils or to teachers preparing for examination, during the summer, at South Kentucky College.

Rev. Chas. H. Nash left on this morning's train for Bardonia, where he will spend his vacation, resting near and in the town. The Rev. W. O. Carver will supply the pulpit during the pastor's absence, beginning next Sunday, preaching regularly every Sunday morning, 10 o'clock. The Wednesday night prayer meetings will be in charge of the Deacons and will be conducted by members of the church selected for the service.

Dr. A. P. Campbell has resumed his practice and has secured the right to extract teeth by the painless process. Office over Bassett & Co.

The greatest game of ball played at Athletic park this season came off Wednesday afternoon, between the Wards and a nine made up from Company D. A fairly good crowd witnessed the game and everybody enjoyed the fun. The Wards downed their military friends by the enormous score of 35 to 16. They will not play a series.

FOR RENT—Residence on Clay Street, between 14th and 16th streets. E. L. FOCKES.

Fields Davenport and Chas. Griffith had a row while at work on the Stephens farm a few miles north of the city, Tuesday. Hot words passed when Griffith pulled a pistol and fired at Davenport twice. One ball took effect, the wound is not considered a dangerous one. Griffith immediately fled and has not been arrested.

Buy a nice hammock and keep cool from Ed R. Bogard, LaFayette, Ky.

A grand picnic, barbecue and brandance will be given near Harmony Grove, two miles North of Clarksville, Saturday, July 27. The affair will be under the management of Mr. W. H. Cornelius and others, and a very pleasant time is expected those who attend. Several from this city will go out on the occasion.

Croquet sets from 75c to $3.00 at Ed R. Bogard's, LaFayette, Ky.

Rev. T. N. Compton has just closed a big protracted meeting which had been in progress for two weeks in the Baptist church at Lawrenceburg, Ky. There were twenty-two additions. Among the number was Rev. Doderidge, who had been in the Methodist church as an earnest minister for many years.

Dr. E. N. Fruit, Dentist, office over City Bank, Hopkinsville, Ky.

A 100 acre field of one of the finest farms in South Christian yielded only 500 bushels of wheat this year. It is an actual measurement by the threshers the yield from some of the best farms in the county is even less. The quality is reported to be excellent.

J. P. Bowling, formerly chief clerk in the division freight office of the L. & N., at Memphis, has been appointed Traveling Passenger Agent of the road, with headquarters at that place. He succeeds Mr. B. H. Helm, who was transferred to New Orleans.

A surprise awaiting you at Wallis' grocery.

Mr. Max M. Hanberry has formed a partnership with Mr. John G. Jefferson, at Cadiz, and will practice law. He will also operate his insurance business in connection.

Old papers for sale at this office.

Logan, the three-year-old son of Mr. John Feland, Jr., while playing at his father's home in Owensboro Wednesday, fell from the porch and fractured an arm.

Call and get your bags of us.

Mr. Eb Morse, a well-known farmer of this county, suffered a stroke of paralysis last Saturday, that will probably have a fatal ending. He is entirely helpless and cannot see, hear nor speak—Princeton Banner.

Mr. R. H. Ingram, of Louisville, who recently resigned his position with the L. & N., has been succeeded by Mr. R. H. Ringgold, former chief clerk in the L. & N. office at Louisville.

Master Victor Armstrong entertained a number of little friends Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and the young folks had a most enjoyable time of it.

The Griffiths played Gracey again Tuesday and won hands down. The score was 10 to 5. Both clubs played good ball, but the Hopkinsville "seconds" played better.

Receiver John MacLeod of the Ohio Valley, made a special trip Tuesday over the road from Evansville to this city to inspect its condition.

Alex Crabb has accepted a position with Mr. J. B. Galbreath, as salesman. Alex is a good business boy and will make Mr. Galbreath an excellent man.

Senator Wm. Lindsay will address the people of Todd county in Elkton on the Second Monday in August in the interest of democratic success.

Work on the Trigg county court house building is progressing nicely and it will be ready for service within the time specified by the contractors.

Mrs. Chas. E. Oliver has been quite ill for several days.

TOBACCO NEWS.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.
Sales by Abernathy & Co. of 136 bbls. as follows:

21 bbls. medium leaf, $11.75, 10.50, 10.50, 10.00, 10.00, 9.90, 9.75, 9.50, 9.50, 9.40, 9.25, 9.00, 8.75, 8.50, 40, 8.40, 8.30, 8.25, 8.00, 7.75, 30 bbls. low leaf, $5.00 to 4.25, 45 bbls. lugs, $5.00 to 1.25.

Sales by Hanberry & Shryer, July 9, 10 and 11, of 90 bbls. as follows: 32 bbls. good to med. leaf, $10.75, 10.00, 9.75, 9.50, 9.25, 8.50, 8.25, 8.00, 8.00, 8.00, 7.95, 7.75, 7.50, 7.50, 7.20, 7.10, 7.00, 7.00, 6.95, 6.20, 6.00, 6.00, 6.00, 6.00, 6.00, 6.00, 6.00, 6.25, 6.25, 20.

38 bbls. com. leaf, $5.95, 5.75, 5.50, 4.60, 4.75, 5.00, 5.00, 3.70, 4.75, 4.50, 4.60, 3.60, 4.00, 3.25, 4.60, 4.70, 4.75, 5.25, 5.50, 4.10, 4.35, 4.60, 5.40, 4.90, 5.00, 4.90, 5.50, 5.50, 4.00, 4.75, 4.60, 4.40, 5.20, 5.75, 5.00, 4.65, 4.90, 14 bbls. med. lugs from $2.00 to 3.00, 6 bbls. trash lugs from $1.25 to 1.75.

LOUISVILLE MARKET.

The Major House sold 53 bbls. 8 bbls. Fayette co. Burley leaf and lugs at $13.50, 12.00, 12.00, 7.50, 7.10, 6.50; 10 Harrison Burley leaf and lugs at $11.25, 10.50, $10.10, 6.50; 9 Grant Burley lugs and trash at $7.10, 6.20, 6.10, 3.80; 10 Montgomery (Tenn) dark leaf and lugs at $5.80, to $4.80; 5 McLean dark leaf at $6.10 to $4.80; 10 dark lugs and trash at $4.10 to 2.25; 5 Warren dark leaf and lugs at $6.60 to 5.20.

When Traveling.
Whether on pleasure bent, or business, take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

SPECIAL LOCALS.

We Are Advertising.
Pyle & Renshaw, The reliable Furniture dealers and undertakers. Up stairs in Henry block, Hopkinsville, Ky.

And so Grover has gone a fishing. And we've heard from old Japan: She's giving China a licking. But we're still at the same old stand. If you doubt it, come and see for yourself. And examine our shop-made furniture and be astonished at the low prices we are selling it for.

House and Lot For Sale.
My residence property on South Main street is offered for sale. The lot is a large one and is situated admirably located and altogether one of the most desirable in the city. Will also sell all of my household and kitchen furniture, horse and phaeton and other personal property. Satisfaction terms.

MRS. KITCHIE BURNETT, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Call on Wright & Bullard, successors to J. F. Pyle, for groceries, produce, etc. A choice stock now being opened.

Wright & Bullard, 210 South Main street

Wheat Sacks.
Otter Creek, Burlap and Tip Top Sacks cheap at FORBES & BROS.

I. W. HARPER'S Nelson Co. Ky. Whiskey.

A GENTLEMAN'S WHISKEY. A WHISKEY FOR THE SIDEBOARD. A WHISKEY FOR THE SICK ROOM.

SOLD BY W. R. LONG, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Wanted! Wanted!!
To give two cows for one. To induce a trade will give a large Range in addition, original cost $75. Apply to E. M. FLEMING, Hopkinsville, Ky.

WANTED
Two active agents to sell a fast selling article. Must furnish horse and harness, can make $75 per week. Address P. O. Box 620, Hopkinsville, Ky.

SILVER vs. GOLD

NOT 16 TO 1, NOR 32 TO 1, BUT 100 TO 1 that you get better treatment, better terms and better values at the People's Favorite Place for Furniture and Carpets than anywhere else on earth. The politicians swear and swear over the financial question. The keen, close shrewd buyers know they can get 100 to 1 from us. They are tired of paying two prices to the old foggy regional dealers and installment houses that live by the sweat of the tongue and misrepresentation. Make, and give you two dollars worth for one every time at Jefferson. Studies values and methods, get dead on to S. T. MOORE CO.'S system of putting CARPETS, FURNITURE, ETC. Into the people's hands, without freight, commissions or the numerous money eaters of a half-dozen middlemen. Train loads of goods are rushed through by fast freight; they are hustled into our warehouses and sold under the whip and spur of the most urgent financial needs; factory cost is knocked in the head, and the financial question is solved by your good sense, while politicians are discussing their preambles. Yesterday we received the following consignments: One carload Columbia Refrigerators and Ice Boxes. They are furnished with charcoal sheathing, extra heavy doors, durable covers and other valuable improvements. One carload of Sideboards, different sizes, in Oak, Ash, Curly Birch, with or without Carved Panels, Bevel Plate Mirror, half carload of Trivly Baby Carriages, two carloads of Parlor Furniture in suites and odd pieces, upholstered in all styles up to Plushes, Tapestries, Brocatelles and Leather. Other consignments came with the same train, including Queensware, Cutlery, Cotton and Hair Mattresses, Woven Wire Beds, Etc. Democrats, Republicans, Populists, Prohibitionists, the coming woman and every political freak should remember that we take gold, silver or greenbacks, and give you two dollars worth for one every time at Jefferson, between Fourth and Fifth, through to Green Avenue. Answering the argument of the village merchant about trading at home by PAYING FREIGHT 200 MILES FROM LOUISVILLE.

MANUFACTURERS AGENTS, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.
S. T. MOORE CO.

ARE YOUR EYES PERFECT?
HAVE FOUR EYES EXAMINED.
The repairing of broken spectacles and adjusting properly to the face, by M. T. Kelly is not equaled in this part of the country.

STOVES
The best stock of STOVES and RANGES in the city.

TINWARE!
Everything in the Tinware line, cheap as dirt.

ROOFING!
Call on us for Roofing and Shuttering.

PUMPS!
Best pumps in the market. Force pumps, bucket pumps, all kinds of pumps.

REPAIR WORK
Special attention to REPAIRING, Virginia St. Hopkinsville, Ky., Opposite HOTEL LATHAM.

GEO. W. YOUNG AGT.

Carriages, Phaetons, Buggies.

I will be found with a full line of pleasure vehicles at F. A. Yost's & Co's harness store on Ninth St. Call and see me before buying.

C. B. WEBB.

Mrs. J. R. Dabney.

Lessons given in Oil and China Painting. Drawing in Charcoal, Crayon, Pastel, etc. Lessons given from 9 to 12 A. M.

CHINA FIRED!
Those interested invited to call. STUDY at Residence, South Main St.

HOTEL LATHAM
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Is the finest Hotel in the South. All modern improvements. Steam Heat and Electric Light throughout.

Rates: $2 to $3.50 per day. Rooms & Co. Managers.

REXDALE HERD of Berkshire hogs and Son down sheep. Six lot of year old Bucks and plows of both sexes now ready for delivery. M. B. KING, Newstead, Ky.

FIRST NATIONAL BARBER SHOP
W. W. GRAY, PROP.

SHAVING 10 SHAMPOOING 25 HAIR CUTTING 25c.

Nothing but first-class work and all done in latest fashion. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

Do you Wear Hats?

If So!
Come and see ours.

All Trimmed Hats

Less Than Cost

Our stock is new and in STYLE.

T. J. Saizedas.

Jno. R. Kitchen

The Main Street FURNITURE Dealer

A Complete and Beautiful Stock on hand, all at LOWEST Cash FIGURES

Bed-room Suits

$10 up

A Solid Oak Suit for $14.75

W. N. DUCKER, FUNERAL DIRECTOR.

Hotel Henderson

Entirely new and first class in all respects. Excellent Sample Rooms and service unequalled in the city.

On Double Car Line, C. F. & L. P. KLEIDER, Proprietors, Henderson, Ky.

POOL & GOODWIN

Keep the best and freshest stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries to be found in the city.

Country Produce handled. Opposite Phoenix Hotel. Main street.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Many A Watch Will Run

More than two years without cleaning, but many a watch has been laid aside worn out because it has allowed to run longer than that.

We nearly always find that the pivots are cut in watches that have run too long without cleaning, and unless the pivots are polished and holes repaired, or new pivots inserted, the watch will not keep as good as before.

When your watch needs cleaning, or any repairs, bring it to us and it will be done PROMPTLY and in a FIRST-CLASS manner.

Graves & Condry, JEWELERS, 105 Main St.

RAMBLERS
Won at Maysville.

More prizes were won at Maysville on Ramblers than were won on any other make of wheel. Out of a possible 23 prizes, 11 were won on Ramblers, including a hill-climbing contest which was won on a Rambler. Four first prizes, 5 and 6 seconds. Rambler riders always win. These were class A riders and not paid amateurs.

The boys ride Ramblers from choice and pay $100 each for their machines because they want to ride Ramblers knowing the Rambler is the fastest bi-cycle built. If you want to win, ride a Rambler.